All of Hannusia's friends have brothers or sisters, and she is the only child in her family. This worries the girl a great deal, and she becomes determined to find out what her friends did to make new babies appear in their families... With warmth and gentle humor, writer Taisiia Nakonechna and illustrator Oksana Drachkovska address one of the most important questions children ask their parents: "Where do babies come from?"

About the Author

Taisiia Nakonechna is Ukrainian poet, prose writer, and translator. She lives and works in Belgium and introduces the world to Ukrainian culture. She writes poetry and prose books for adults and translates literature from English and Dutch.

Taisiia is convinced that children's literature is the most important, because it helps young personalities grow, dream, and become better.

Flying Library

AGE 3+

author: Mila Radchenko
illustrator: Svitlana Yurieva

This picture book is dedicated to all the readers and non-readers of the world. It tells the story of how a first acquaintance with a book occurs, a love of reading is born, and a whole adventure can turn out of an ordinary visit to the library! Did you know that there is a book dinosaur living on every bookshelf? It is he who helps to choose the right book at the right moment. His task is to comfort, interest and teach to dive into the worlds of books! But sometimes on the way of book dinosaur there are "difficult cases", like Tarasyk – the non-reader! Will Felix manage to fulfill his mission and make Tarasyk fall in love with reading?

Тарасик встав із ліжка, взяв незвичайної дитинки і рідше покрукував до книжкової полиці...
— Самі книжки та й годі...
Спробуйте, а що по тому?
З полиці він взяв лише одну книжку — велетенську і з огорченнями кімнатно-життєвою та філіатовою сидулкою.

Locomotive One Two Three

author: Volodymyr Chernyshenko illustrator: Volodymyr Shtanko

AGE 3+

When a fierce and merciless enemy comes at us with a war and seeks to destroy everyone, then the fate of the country depends on each of us, and any help will not be superfluous. Even a small locomotive, which, it would seem, had done its job and was already resting peacefully on the spare track, rushes to help...

Fairy Tales of Pushchansk Forest

author: Svitlana Prudnyk

illustrator: Larysa Fedorchenko

AGE 3+

Hedgehog Pantulko and his friends — Oak Zhartun, Moss Mokhlyk, Snail Myrko, Squirrel Hrasia, Magpie Hrunia, Lizard Smarahdychka, and Mouse Karapka — live in an ordinary-extraordinary forest. Every day brings a new adventure, whether joyful or not so much, worrisome, sometimes dangerous, instructive, and even involving a kidnapping. Together, they jaunt the tram, write a letter to a sick boy, save a winter sleep... They all take care of their home — Pushchansk Forest, even when war comes... Each fairy tale by the well-known Ukrainian writer Svitlana Prudnyk carries its own unique story with a small hidden lesson. Collectively, they create a beautiful book of life's important rules, and not just for the creatures of the forest... These stories teach valuable human virtues: humanity, kindness, friendship, helping others, fairness, and respect for nature with all its living beings, as well as show the importance of every life on Earth. For children aged 3 and up.

Model and Talk. In the Forest

author: Valentyna Rozhniv
plasticine: Iryna Basalyha

AGE 3+

Children's memory develops when they see and hear. Discussing what they see and hear helps them to understand. If a child sees, hears, discusses and does, his or her skills are formed. Modelling is a simulator that develops the sensory and motor skills and mental processes of a child. The step-by-step instructions in the book will help your child to skilfully model different creatures. Thanks to simple phrases, the child will be able to voice each thing that he/she has sculpt. Sound imitations will encourage children who are silent to speak. If you have a young bilingual, this book is perfect for learning the first English words.

Tales from Sleepy's Bag

author: Olena Khodiuk illustrator: Valeriia Pertii

AGE 3+

Every night mum Olena asks her little girl Victoria to go to the bed, but the little girl, like all children, doesn't want to fall asleep. And then Sleepy comes to help her mother. He has a magic bag from which he pulls out "falling asleep" fairy tales. This book is made up of the fairy tales that Sleepy took out of his bag for Victoria, but they can also be useful for other children as well as their parents. This book also has the magical ability to "call" Sleepy to you – and together with him and your baby you can invent your own fairy tales – which Sleepy might like to take into his bag...

The New Adventures of Grandpa Achoo

author: Oleksandr Vilchynskiy illustrator: Volodymyr Yakubovskiy

AGE 6+

This book is a sequel to the stories about the forest spirit Grandpa Achoo. After the release of the first book — “Grandpa Achoo and His Friends” — the kind, cheerful, and resourceful forest spirit won the hearts of both children and adults, so author decided to tell the story of his new adventures. And since he dedicated the first book to his grandson Dmytro when he was in third grade — and now he’s in fifth — the stories have also matured a bit. However, not only elementary and middle school students, but even preschoolers will find plenty of interesting, funny, and educational content in this book.

The Rescued Tails

author: Nastia Muzychenko
illustrator: Maryna Shuturma

AGE 6+

The shaggy cat Borysiuk lives in the Exhibition Centre in Kyiv in the ice arena. One morning he discovers that volunteers have set up a temporary shelter in a nearby pavilion for animals that were evacuated from the territory that had just been liberated from the Russian occupiers. Of course, Borysiuk goes to get acquainted with them — and the history of animals rescued from the epicenter of hostilities opens up to him.

These stories, created on the basis of real events, are deeply moving, and at the same time cause a soft and warm smile in order to move, but not traumatize, the little reader.

Benjamin the Ficus Talks about Happiness

AGE 6+

author: Serhii Pantiuk

illustrator: Valeriia Kryzhanovska

When there are no people at home, it does not mean no one is there. After all, our pets and oxygen producers — indoor plants — remain. And then there is someone who usually does not like to be seen by either us or them: a household spirit. Under normal circumstances, these three worlds — people, plants, and the house spirit — coexist in the same house, but as if in parallel dimensions that never interact. However, when the war comes, bringing a time of terrible trials for everyone, it is the old Ficus Benjamin who first dares to break old superstitions and prejudices opening up to communication with other worlds... The surprisingly light yet poignant story by the famous writer and sergeant of the Armed Forces of Ukraine, Serhii Pantiuk, "Benjamin the Ficus Talks about Happiness" reveals how, in our seemingly ordinary lives during wartime, real values and eternal truths are fully uncovered.

The Little Hare's Book

AGE 6+

author: Ivan Andrusiak

illustrator: Olha Kuznietsova

It is one of the best books by one of the best modern Ukrainian poets, Ivan Andrusiak. Versed fairy tales are intended for reading aloud to a child and the first children's own reading. These are slightly mischievous, sometimes thoughtful, often funny and always good stories that Daddy Hare tells his little children — and it turns out that all these adventures happened to Daddy himself when he was little. In 2018, the book was awarded the Lesia Ukrainka Award — the highest honor in Ukrainian literature for children.

The Child from the Sack

AGE 6+

author: Ivan Andrusiak

illustrator: Valeriia Kryzhanovska

Kaloshko is one of the many characters of Ukrainian folklore created to scare children. The story goes that he comes at night, snatches a child into his sack, and carries them off into the dark forest... And then what? And why does no one ask what Kaloshko himself thinks about this? What will he do if, one day, a child appears in his sack out of nowhere?

With a clever twist on folkloric superstitions and educational stereotypes, acclaimed children's author Ivan Andrusiak sparks a profound conversation in his latest book, engaging young readers in a serious discussion about the pitfalls of growing up, while encouraging adults to recognize the importance of preserving 'the child within' no matter what.

"The Magic Jug" is a book about Trypillia that blends the past and future, fact and fiction. After meeting at the "Trypillia Culture" reserve in the village of Lehedzyne, Zoriana and Yarko not only visit the museum but also help with the communal work of building a Trypillian house, and study the unique pictographic writing of the Trypillians... And then... they are suddenly transported six thousand years into the past and find themselves in an authentic Trypillian settlement! The children witness the strange rituals of the Stork-Mother, work the land with primitive tools, and become both observers and participants in the daily life of the settlement's inhabitants. But most importantly, they mold a special magical jug that helps their fathers return safely from a dangerous hunt. Immerse yourself in the world of the past and learn more about the culture of our ancestors! The distinctive illustrations by Volodymyr Shtanko will captivate readers, and sharp-eyed fans will recognize characters from another beloved series – the tales of "Taffy and Tegumai" – in the vibrant illustrations!

About the Author

Hanna Osadko is a writer, artist, book illustrator, and doctor of philosophy. She illustrated more than 50 books, and wrote and published four collections of poetry and short prose: "The One Who Flips Penguins", "Private Punctuation Marks", "Lavender & Rosemary", and "Sarmatian Sea". Author of 15 children's books, including "Who Lives in the Sea", "Strange Animals", "Plasticine Riddles", "Cat's Dreams". As an artist, Hanna Osadko works in a variety of techniques: graphics, collage, plasticine and glass illustrations, and wool felting. She has had several solo exhibitions: 2010 at the Lviv Museum of Glass – the exhibition "Bottle of Poems"; 2012 at the National Museum of Literature of Ukraine – exhibition "Plasticine, pen and glass". In 2013, Ivan Andrusiak's book "Eight Days in the Life of a Chipmunk" featuring illustrations by Hanna Osadko, was included in the prestigious annual catalogue of the world's best children's publications "White Ravens".

Із такими думками пан пекар швидко розплив піт і одягнув свій білосніжний фартух. Адже що б не заворила пані Сіль, та через це ніхто з мешканців містечка не повинен сьогодні залишатися без своєї випічки. Весело мушкетюючи, пан пекар раз у раз забігав до комори, аверцята якої зовалися прамісичню під плідничку, на якій стояли збанки з меленою корицею та родзинками.

Уже за кілька хвилин чмаллий дубовий стіл посеред пекарні був усеїнт заставлений полумисками з грудками сонячного масла, високими глеками з молоком, сметаною та вершками, коробками з пудрою та какао. Прією в чмалій майтрі біліло просіяне борошно. Пан Сирник захопився розмішує тісто на завиванці з абрикосовим варенням. Не минуло і чверть години, як пан пекар уже струшував промітні родзинки та сушені вишні для кексиків. А тим часом у печі вже стало чималеньке деко з цукровим печивом.

Пані Сіль недовіриливо глянула на пекаря, але результати не стала. Щого дня всіх, хто завітає до пекарні, зустрічала разом із паном Сирником і пані Сіль у білосніжному фартушці. Вона кожного пригощала чималеньким шматочком святкової випічки. І що менше шматочків зашпильовало на столі, то привітнішою ставала пані Сіль. Во взамін за солодку випічку вона отримувала теплі слова привітань. І ніхто не переймався тим, який шматочок торта йому дістанеться — ніжний білковий, шоколадно-горіховий чи бісквіт із цедурою лимону. Адже день народження — це не лише чудове свято, а й ще одна нагода стати кращим.

Me, Star, and the Ballet author: Viktoriiia Miziuk

illustrator: Maryna Shuturma

AGE 6+

Mykolka has a dream: to watch the popular Star Wars series together with his dad. But Dad is always busy with his super-important job, so Mykolka spends the summer holidays at his grandma's village, herding a cow named Star. The thing is, Star has a dream too. And she's so determined to make it come true that she sets off on a long and dangerous journey... all the way to Lviv. Of course, Mykolka can't let her go alone. After all, Lviv is where he might finally find his dad and get him to watch that series with him. Full of wild adventures and delightful humor, Vika Miziuk's story "Me, Star, and the Ballet" reminds us that every good dream deserves to come true, even if it seems totally impossible to everyone else.

About the Author

Vika Miziuk was born and raised in Ternopil, but as a child she spent every weekend and vacation with her grandmother in the village. She liked to run barefoot in the field or meadow, play hide-and-seek, build a hut, pick strawberries outside the village, climb her grandmother's old pear tree, carve a scarecrow out of a pumpkin and place it on the roadside with a lit candle to scare travelers. Once Vika wondered: what a cow thinks about when it lies in the pasture in the summer and slowly reams? That's how the fairy tale about the cow Star appeared.

Vika Miziuk is convinced that childhood is best spent close to nature. Now the writer lives outside the city with her two children and her beloved husband and writes fairy tales.

Mess in the Dnipro River

AGE 6+

author: Anatoliy Dnistroviy illustrator: Nataliia Butenko

Playful and sometimes openly ironic poems introduce young readers to the world of fish of the Dnipro River. Well-known fish such as roach, crucian carp and perch, respectable tench, pike and catfish, and rare fish known only to the most avid fishermen, are depicted in a surprisingly characteristic way, with their unique behavioural traits and tastes. Get to know them, and you will definitely want to spend your day off sitting with a fishing rod on the cosy banks of the Dnipro River and see the scaly heroes of this book in their natural habitat.

Colours for Sashko

AGE 9+

author: Viktoriia Yarosh
illustrator: Iryna Lukasheva

Most of all, Oles wants to become an artist. And this isn't just a dream: he's truly talented! Although he's been unable to distinguish colours since birth, this doesn't hinder his talent, for colours abound in Oles's soul... But how difficult it is to be 'different from everyone else!' Sashko, on the other hand, knows all about colours, as his whole family are artists, and he himself already knows and can do a great deal. But how can he come to terms with the fact that some upstart colour-blind lad paints better than he does?! Such an outrage simply must be stopped! So whose talent will stand the test of envy? Which of them — Sashko or Oles — actually needs colours more?

About the Author

Yeva Solska is one of those writers whose fairy tales are born from life itself – from her travels and conversations, from her love for children, and from her ability to see wonder in the smallest things.

Since 2017, Eva Solska has been working with Ukrainian and international publishers as a children's author. She is the author of numerous popular stories for children, as well as the fantasy series for teenagers, "Letty Gwingill". Since the start of the full-scale invasion, Eva has been working as a military interpreter, teaching Ukrainian children foreign languages for free, promoting Ukrainian culture and supporting the Ukrainian Armed Forces. And she continues to write. Because fairy tales are always needed, especially in difficult times. Eva's stories are about kindness, friendship, care and the ability to listen to one another.

Sheddy

AGE 9+

author: Artem Shvachka
illustrator: Olesia Kukcharenko

It is commonly understood among all pupils: as long as there are holidays, there's always room for leisure. Yehor, Nazar, and Diana turn a half-built cottage that resembles a fortress into their playground. Everything was going smoothly until an ibex – a magnificent Alpine mountain goat with impressively twisted horns – escaped from the local zoo, where, as rumour has it, the animals weren't well cared for. And if their fortress hadn't turned into an unintentional trap from which the ibex couldn't escape... A thrilling adventure story by Artem Shvachka, "Sheddy" delves into themes of friendship and responsibility, freedom and choice. Above all, it's about the moment every teenager will inevitably face – the moment when they must make adult decisions and muster the courage for their first steps toward maturity, steps that reveal who they truly are...

Girl Eva, a classmate of Andriiko Hovorukha (school nickname Android, whose surname can be translated as Talker), to his mind, is as tall as a giraffe. Once she took offense at him and prophesied seven troubles for him – bad lucks. And so they begin to come true – getting more and more nervous because of this the boy gets into more and more funny situations again and again. Until it suddenly becomes clear that in fact...

Hovorukha and Eva are the same height, and it is really interesting to count the freckles on the girl's face! Full of sparkling humour, Sasha Kochubei's debut novel "Seven Bad Lucks of Andriiko Hovorukha" is the winner of the "Write a book about me!" contest, announced by the "Fontan Kazok" ("Fountain of Tales") publishing house in 2015.

Andriiko Hovorukha (whose surname can be translated as Talker), nicknamed Android at school, and his friend Yurchyk have a new problem: their girlfriends are now fond of the popular actor and stopped paying attention to them. But Hovorukha does not give up! He is ready to set any records he wants in order to become famous and defeat an unexpected "rival"... Sasha Kochubei's first novel "Seven Bad Lucks of Andriiko Hovorukha" in a short time gained the reputation of a book thanks to which even children who don't like reading begin to love it. "Hovorukha Book of Records" is a new adventure of favourite characters, even more gripping and funny. And these are the heroes in whom modern Ukrainian schoolchildren really "recognize themselves".

The book presents a biographical reconstruction adapted for young primary school readers, created by Nataliia Marchenko (pen name – Nataliia Savchuk), a PhD in History and Senior Research Fellow at the Institute of Biographical Studies of the National Library of Ukraine, who specializes in children's literature and reading. This scientific biography-installation recounts the life of the renowned Ukrainian statesman Symon Petliura from the perspective of his cherished daughter Lesia, with whom he maintained an exceptionally close and trusting bond throughout his life. Each of the seven stories reveals a different aspect of Petliura's character that is likely to resonate with young readers – his eloquence, love for music and the arts, his ability to foster friendships and unite people, his unwavering commitment to his ideals, and his selfless devotion to his cause. Additionally, young readers will uncover fascinating insights into the historical realities, events, and individuals connected to the Petliura family.

"The fantasy dilogy of the famous Ukrainian writer Galyna Malyk "Criminals from a Parallel World" is a fascinating story about a homeless boy, Khronya. The loyal dog Rex, the funny parrot Feri, the indomitable Chechen Dzhokhar, the wise raven Guy, the "cool" cat Rata, the mean and insidious mutant monster Chmak — this is not a complete list of the characters with whom fate brings Khronya together during the search for her relatives. Mild humor, sometimes even caustic satire, colorful language, tragic moments, unexpected plot twists keep the reader in constant tension. But the main characters' desire for justice, the atmosphere of humanity and goodness that fills every page of the book, are the most touching. For children of middle and senior school age."

In the attic of an abandoned house, two teenagers find an encrypted note indicating the location of a pirnach, a Cossack artifact, exchanged during the Holodomor by the communist scoundrel Lysko from his grandfather Gavryl, a descendant of the village chieftain of the Zaporozhian Sich. According to legend, the owner of the pirnach received unlimited power, but Lysko never had time to check this, because he soon died under mysterious circumstances. The pirnach has disappeared. The main characters of the story decide to believe the found note and go into the forest in search of the artifact to return it to the descendants of grandfather Gavryl. But the children do not know that they are not the only ones looking for this symbol of power. A dangerous murderer, Lysko's grandson, also wants to find it. Who will be the first?

The Farm

AGE 9+

author: Olena Zakharchenko
illustrator: Larysa Fedorchenko

Khrystynka settles on a farm with her grandmother when her father is fired from his job at the university because he is for an independent Ukraine. There she not only meets new friends, but also learns to understand the language of animals, birds and mythical creatures — mermaids and seagulls. After all, in reality she is not an ordinary girl, but a Forest Princess. In the book "The Farm" by Olena Zakharchenko, everyday life, adventure, history and mythology are intertwined as closely as the branches of trees in a mysterious forest near the village, where you can even find... a hiding place with real rebels. And help them destroy the Soviet Union.

Mother of the Sun

AGE 12+

author: Anastasiia Lavrenyshyna

illustrator: Mariia Savko

There is a steep mountain in the middle of the endless sea. On its top a haphazardly molded, yet cozy house in which the Sun lives is located. Every morning the Sun rides into the sky on its boisterous horse Tatosha and Ma stays at home. She manages the household, collects food, cooks, and at night combs the Sun's golden hair so that it shines beautifully all day...

Maybe it would have continued like this until now if one day a young wind girl had not knocked on the door and begun to find out what this fragile world stands on, what skeletons are hiding in secret rooms, and what passions are flowing in the bowels of the mountain and the heart of the Mother of the Sun...

About the Author

Anastasiia Lavrenyshyna grew up in fairy tales told to her by her dear grandmother. From childhood to now, fairy tales follow her, and sometimes the author herself leads fairy tales, shaking off the dust from them and updating them. The fantasy "Mother of the Sun" is written based on the magical Ukrainian fairy tale "Dido Vsevydo". The writer started working on it in Ukraine before the full scale invasion of Russia and finished it already in the heart of European fairy tales between the mysterious Vosges Mountains and the even more mysterious Black Forest, where the Brothers Grimm collected their fairy tales. In addition to rethinking fairy tale plots, the author develops animation projects together with her husband, artist and director Anatolii Lavrenyshyn; raises two sons, whose hair is like a golden ray, and whose eyes are the blue of the sea.

Marta is a lively, impulsive high school student who has been devoted to ballroom dancing since childhood. She has caring parents, a loyal friend, as well as admirers and rivals among her classmates. Yet the treacherous betrayal of her long-time dance partner leaves her vulnerable and pushes her toward reckless decisions.

Marta's choices are not always logical or right, but she finds the strength to keep training, volunteering, and taking part in festivals. She struggles desperately to regain her inner balance and holds on to the hope that one day she will meet a young man she can truly trust – and love.

Illustrator: Mariia Savko

Petryna is an awkward teenager. She has a complicated relationship with her mother: she blames her for breaking up with her father and starting a new family. She also has problems at school. And she frankly hates the city she lives in. "I'm superfluous" – this thought never leaves her mind.

Everything changes when Petryna accidentally walks through the gates of Aridnik and finds herself in the magical Nevrida. Things are not peaceful there either: the local inhabitants, the Nevri, are preparing for the new Great Hunt, which has been repeated cyclically for many centuries, and the gods, bored with eternal life, play with human destinies as if in a game of chess. But it is in this hostile yet beautiful world that the girl is destined to find everything she has always lacked. And even get what she could never have dreamed of.

The Gorgon's Key

AGE 12+

author: Mariana Stefak
illustrator: Mariia Savko

It is not easy to be a teenager, especially when you're a "troublesome" teenager from Magic Forest. And especially when you find yourself in the whirlwind of events and you are asked to do just an ordinary thing – to save the world from the Ancient Evil – the gigantic Serpent Gorgon. Is this possible for a twelve-year-old boy, who hasn't got any magical abilities?

Лельці що до того? Невже втрискалась у Руного? А червоноволосу знають усі: з ким вона тільки не зустрічалася! Постійно у пошуку великого і єдиного козачка, як вона каже. Ага, єдино. Як на мене, вона просто кидається на шню першому-ліпшому. Навіть до Тура липла, хоч він іще не старшокласник. Але наш звороч як не вистрав, чого вона від нього хоче, й ідеальної пари не вийшло.

До речі, той перелесник недавно у нашому лісі з'явився. Приблудився місяць тому невідомо звідки – але то так, у нас «своєм» зайвих запитань не ставлять: прийшов, то прийшов, ласкаво просимо, живи на здоров'я. То хай би собі тихенько жив – аж ні, він відразу завоював титул найкрутішого красунчика. Недаремно вогневиця у нього так вцепилася: всі дівчата за красунчика вже перечубилися. От і наша Лелька туди ж.

— Ну, Ярку, успіхів! — братик легенько підтовхує мене вперед.

Лелька налаштована так рішуче й войовничо, що мені підставити шню взагалі не хочеться. Може, ну ка червоногарячих пасем, ну трошки подряпає її самолюб'я, мабуть, навіть устигне дати дראה. А от «Ромео» на всіх чоловіків (і це класно, бо ми з Туром часто підси-на всіх, крім мене. Поваж перелесник...)

— Я б сам пішов, — понтує Тур, — ти ж знаєш. Але у мене вже два попередження цього семестру, а в Лельки

What is happiness — just mutual love or something more?.. That's what the eighth-grader Elvira Skovronska from Kyiv is interested in.

She is secretly in love with eleventh-grader Slavko Rudiuk, but does not know how to attract the boy's attention. Elia considers her grandmother, the famous actress Ariadna Dukat, to be her best friend, so one day she decides to ask her for advice. Grandmother Ariadna lives on the left bank of the Dnipro River, not far from the "Lisova" underground station. But on the way to her, Elia receives a mysterious package — a strange clock with thirteen marks — and gets into another reality...

The story "Yaromyr" is a fascinating journey into the past, when Rus-Ukraine resisted the Horde invasion, as it is now resisting the Moscow invasion. The hero of the story is Yaromyr, a young warrior of King Danylo, a native of the heroic Bakota on the Dniester River, a descendant of famous warriors and characternyks. The work reveals the pages of the birth of the youth plastun movement, the school of survival in extreme conditions. It is also a story of two hearts in love – Yaromyr and Myroslava, who receive the blessing of the House of Giants.

The story of Ukrainian girl Roksolana is impressive. After all, she went through a difficult life journey — from a captive of the Crimean khan to the wife of Sultan Suleiman and the mother of his successor, Selim the Second. Hence, in Istanbul, she was named Hürrem. During her lifetime, this woman corresponded with the rulers of Europe and Asia, had a great influence on politics, and was actively involved in charity. The book tells the story of her life, her place in history, and her large family.

За Вишневецьким із заграгоного вісництва у неї Справедливості¹ спостерігала його колишня землячка Гюррем. Здалося їй не надто статичним і повним, як для того, чий рід бере початок ще від давніх князів. У ньому побачила серйозного віку чоловіка з досвідченою головою, який мав потяг до розважливих іграшок. Щоб з'ясувати про нього більше інформації, наказала служниці Гюльфім викликати до себе посланця Гасана. Той прийшов Вишневецького в сукні.

Гасан одразу ж повідомив, що українця із Польського королівства намагався в Стамбулі розшукати родичів, яких половили кримські татари.

— Кого саме? — запитав листя, якого раніше вручив Дмитро Вишневецький. Розгорнувши його, вдумався, намагався розгадати написане.

— Пробітьте за затримку, — поклявшись вибачитися і мовчки додати: — Вишневецький просить викласти вдову двоюрідного брата Фельда, Марію на рідний місток.

Гасан почув, як Гюррем зігнула спіну, а вгледі проказала:

— Передай тому Вишневецькому, що я поспримаю цьому виконанню. А він хай зникне до наших порядків. Без цього не стане слугою його чоловіка — сукні Сурейяна.

— Буде зроблено, володарю, — пообіцяв Гасан на прощання.

А Гюррем одразу ж розширилася, щоби її люди в палаці довідався про долю полонених родичів Вишневецького.

How Art Began

AGE 9+

author: Bohdana Pinchevska illustrator: Anastasiia Kovalska

The book "How Art Began" is dedicated to the earliest discoveries of artistic works in human history. Its aim is to introduce young readers to the first manifestations of human creativity, as well as to attempt to explain why (and sometimes how) these works came into being. It explores what exactly motivated the ancient inhabitants of Earth, without any prior agreement, to create realistic depictions of animals, or megaliths, or pyramids and ziggurats in different parts of the world; how, from the very beginnings of human history, ceramics took on the role of ensuring comfort and beauty, and so on. The art history terminology used in this book is explained right in the text using simple, easy-to-understand words, making it easier to remember. The book is intended for middle and high school students, as well as anyone interested in ancient art.
